The Blowing Rock Historical Society proudly presents Artists in Residence at Edgewood Cottage

Please visit the Cottage and support our High Country artists

A portion of the art sales will support our re-curation of the BRAHM history exhibit

Edgewood Cottage was the first home and studio of renowned artist Elliot Dangerfield and where he held his "Painting Ladies" classes at the turn of the 20th century. His legacy continues with the Artists in Residence program that features High Country artists during the summer and fall months.

The Historic 1888 Museum in Memorial Park is part of Blowing Rock's first hotel. We continue to make improvements to this museum.
